RESEARCH ON LOTION I: PERSONAL APPROACH

500 CASE STUDIES

Summary I: Patients and methods.

Research was done by testing 500 patients with hair loss or balding. Age limits were between 28 (twenty eight) and 50 (fifty) years.

The 500 people were divided into 2 (two) groups, groups A and B.

The lotion called "1", a totally natural one from an association of plants from the Brazilian pharmacopoeia, was used on group A, and we used a certain kind of placebo on group B.

Results: 12 weeks.

After 12 (twelve) weeks had gone by using lotion "1", we decided to do an evaluation on the reactions occurring during this period. It was noted that on certain patients from group A, there was already a reaction of stoppage of hair loss and growth of small strands of hair. It was decided that the number of daily applications would be increased from once a day to twice a day on those who just had hair loss problems and 3 (three) times on the bald people.

After 16 weeks of daily use, satisfactory development was noted in regard to group A, the people with hair loss stopped losing it, the people in an advanced stage of baldness had a splendid reaction, with new strands covering the bald part.

It was therefore, found that 70% of the people in group A obtained success and 30% after 120 days continued to use the lotion with a slow development process.

In regard to group B, in which a certain type of placebo was used, no kind of development was seen.

Other people were watched, although they took no part in the 2 (two) groups, for whom the "double-blind" was made, and therefore they had different benefits, either with the halting of hair loss, with elimination of seborrhea and dandruff or with the balance of oiliness, or had part of their baldness covered.

It is important to remember that, in the group in which local application was made of the Ervamatin lotion, that is, group A, there were people with hereditary baldness problems, and despite this, some, though not all, profited from their experiences.

Based on the research, as well as watching some users, we can state that the lotion is effective in 69% of the cases of baldness and 100% in hair loss. Perhaps there was not a 100% satisfactory result either because some people did not use it properly, with massages, helping the lotion to penetrate the hair bulb better, or did not use it daily, or otherwise because the lotion is not appropriate for there to be a satisfactory reaction in all cases of baldness.

It is important to remember that no kind of counter-indication or toxicity was found.

CONCLUSION: We believe that use of solution "I" effective in fighting dandruff and hair loss. And 69% of cases productive hair follicles reappear.

This being the truth, I establish on my present verdict,
